

CODE OF STUDENT CONDUCT

(August 2019)

In accordance with state legal requirements, general rules of student conduct, and responsibilities and rights have been developed and published in the student handbook as the Code of Student Conduct. The handbook is reproduced annually and made available to students, parents, and staff.

Purpose

To establish standards of student conduct and enforcement procedures designed to provide that education in The Gladys H. Oberle School be conducted in an atmosphere free of disruption and threat to persons or property and supportive of individual rights.

Rights and Responsibilities of Students

The chief purpose of the school is to help students achieve maximum development of individual knowledge, skills, and competency and to help students develop behavior patterns which will enable them to be responsible, contributing members of society. Acceptable behavior is essential to the development of responsible and self-disciplined citizens and to the provision of an effective school program. Positive behavior is based on respect for one's self and for the worth and dignity of others. Development of such positive behavior in students is a dual function of the home and of the school.

Every student has certain rights which must be respected; however, rights are not absolute. With every right there is a corresponding responsibility. General rules of conduct for students are established to ensure the rights and welfare of all students and are designed to prevent the disruptive few from interfering with the education of all.

1. The rights of all students and the right to an education are and shall be recognized without regard to race, religion, sex, creed, ability to pay, national origin, disabling condition, or intellectual ability. Student responsibilities include regular school attendance, conscientious effort in classroom work, conformance to school rules and regulations and the responsibility not to interfere with the education of fellow students or the orderly operation of the school.
2. Students have the right to expect a safe school environment in which to learn and a climate within the school that is conducive to learning. Students have a responsibility to help the school staff in operating a safe school by abiding at all times by the federal, state and county laws and the policies and regulations of the school board and the school.
3. Students have the right to expect courtesies, fairness, respect, and to be free of sexual harassment from members of the school staff and other students. Students have the responsibility to respect the rights and authority of teachers, students, administrators, and all others involved in the educational process.
4. Students have a right to expect that other students and school personnel will respect their personal property. Students have the responsibility to respect personal property rights of other students, teachers, and administrators as well as the public's property, including school equipment and buildings.
5. Students have the right to freedom of expression, to address policies publicly, privately, in writing or orally. Students may advocate change in any law, policy, or regulation. Students have a responsibility to see that expressions do not interfere with the educational program. Students have a responsibility not to use obscene, slanderous, or libelous statements; not to use disruptive tactics; nor to advocate violation of the law or school regulations.
6. Students have the right to complain to school staff regarding decisions made by staff members considered not in the student's best interests. Students have the responsibility to follow the grievance procedures outlined in the student handbook.
